Your Old Age Pension-Provide It Now

She was a singer. Seats for her concers were always sold long in advance. She was highly talented and very popular. Needless to say,

She came to our Service Station not so long ago with this problem. She said: "Everybody knows I make a good deal of money, and many people want to help me spend it. It is difficult for me to say 'No' to them, and as a result I haven't much more than is represented by my clothes and jewels. Yesterday I sent a check to a benefit fund that is being mised for a concert singer who was rich and famous a generation ago. Isn't there a way to provide for my future now, so that they won't be giving benefits for me when I am old?"

There was a way. A plan has been made and is already in satisfactory operation. She is highly delighted with it.

But other people than concert singers have to face the prospect of a non-productive old age. If your work is such that your income in later year will be uncertain, then come in and talk your problem over at our Service Station. The solution for you will probably be different, but there is a solution. In one case it was a change of occupation. But whatever it is, talking things over and making a survey and inventory is pretty certain to be helpful.

In addition to testing this machinery the gov-erament thought that the people of the United States might be willing to commemorate the day by patrictic observances. It is the anniversary of the capture of St. Miniel.

This commemoration may be in such spirit as

PROOF OF PROFIT IN THE AIR MAIL
Chicago, Aug. 9.—We fully indorse your editorial in this morning's TrainUNE, "Send Your Letters by Air."
But we've gone a step farther than sending letters by air, as the following incident will show you:
On Thursday, July 24, at 12:15 p. m.,
our Denver branch manager wired us to rush four asbestos suits to Fort Coilins, Colo., to help put out the gas well fire on the property of the Union Oil company.

That tolegram was delivered at this office at 2:45 p. m. At 5 o'clock on a complete asbestos suit (except shoes) was delivered at the main posteffice for transmission by air mail—postage $15.20. The plane carrying the suit took off from Checkerboard field at 5:20 and landed at Cheyenna, Wyo., at 5:05 the following morning. The suit was transferred to a waiting automobile and rushed to the some of the fire, where it arrived at 7 o'clock.

The other three suits made the same time twenty-four hours later. Postage $44.95.

The asbestos shoes came from the Manville, N. J., factory. They left New York by air mail Saturday morning.
July 26, and arrived at the scene of the fire within twenty-four hours.
We also have found the air mail a wonderful convenience in communicating with our Denver and Sait Lake Circuits.

Good? Most people go through life seeking, of necessity, things that are not costly. Upon the whole they benefit from a situation that at times may seem to border upon hardship.

For most of the things of life really worth while are within reach of average prosperity. If one make the necessary distinction between things that are cheap, merely, and things that are not costly he may, without much wealth, possess a full share of the material things that make substantial contribution to enjoyment of life.

* * *

But he who accepts cheapness in any form lives a life that is both cheap and extravagant, for the cheap thing is, as a rule, worth less than its cost.

* * *

And in no ordinary transaction is there more need for application of common sense than in the purchase of daily food. When a merchant (restaurant keeper or other) insists that his commodities are very cheap take him at his word and make your decision accordingly.

At Henrici's prices are neither cheap nor high—they are exactly adequate for the proper service of the choicest quality of foods. You pay for quality at Henrici's and that is exactly what you receive. That is the reason why Henrici's is a safe place in which to breakfast, lunch and dine.

Selection of the machinery for handling the western campaign is the first matter to be taken up by Shaver, Brennan, et al. today. It is not unlikely that Democratic activities from the Mississippi valley west will be directed by a triumvirate of generals in much the same manner that the 1916 campaign was conducted under the Hollis-Walsh-Perris combination.

Republican plans for the ceremonies to inform Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes of his vice presidential nomination at his Evanston home next Tuesday virtually have been completed.

It will be up to Secretary of State Emmerson again to decide which of the Republican country committees he will recognise as the legal committees authorized to hold a convention for judicia nominations according to development yesterday. Francis P. Brady, chair man of the 1920 (Lundin-Thompson committee, issued a call for a convention Sept. 8 to nominate candidate to fill the three vacancies named by Gov. Small in his special election call Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the "regular" committee which Secretag Emmerson has previously recognised will issue a call Monday for a convention to be held at a date later than that named by Brady.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—outstanding figure of the century—adamant in defeat, magnanimous in victory! Powerful as his influence was in life, it is greater still in death. Today, as never before, every section of the country unites to honor his name.

If the Great Emancipator were here now, how he would glory in this splendid memorial which stands in the country he knew and loved so well and which serves as a connecting link between his age and the present!

We're proud of the part we've played in building the Victory Bridge. For all time to come it will stand to commemorate the valor of those who gave their all in order that Democracy might live.

Give the Pedestrian a 50-50 Break

Regulate the pedestrian and we shall reduce accidents. But we cannot regulate the man who walks unless we allow him certain rights. We cannot tell him: You must cross at the cross walks; yousamst not cross a street diagonally, etc., unless we give him protection.

The pedestrian who crosses the street even in the proper place has no guarantee that he will be

Let us apply the right hand right-of-way law at street intersections to pedestrians as well as to motorists. That would give the man who walks a 50-50 break with the man who drives.

A pedestrian would in that case cross a street knowing that if he were on the right handwide he would have the right-of-way over all traffic-ap-proaching from the left.

Arrest the driver who refuses to grant the right-of-way. Fine him as we would for the violation of any traffic rule. Fine the pedestrian who jay walks. Let us put the motorist and pedestrian on

The right hand right-of-way law of Illinois does work out for motorists. It is not so rigidly enforced as it should be, however. We believe more attention abould be paid to violations of this law than to speed yiolations.

The Chicago Motor Cinb is the representative of the car owners of Illinois and Northern Indiana. Since 1906 we have been planning, working and fighting for the car owner. We do not, however, ask for privileges for the car owner which would be detrimental to the non-car owner.

A spirit of fair play, better understanding between the man who walks and the man who drives, will reduce accidents. Motorists who support the work of the club are helping to eave fives.

From that standpoint—the good it does their disposition—perhaps the most severe dictitian might be tolerant. Yet we did not have to wait for dictitians to have those who would condemn pie as an article of diet. In Dr. Doran's "Table Traits with Something on Them" [1853], there is this statement: "But here are the pastry and the fruits; and there are people who are given to believe that pastry and poison are not wide asunder."

It seems that Mrs. Ford laughingly agreed about pie being worthwhile for the good it did a man's disposition, and said: "You know there's eyen a scientific, healthful way to make pig. And

A Well Dressed Man.

NEW YORK.—[Special correspondence.]—Of all the by-ways of this old town of New York, Fark avenue is one of those with as many if not more well dressed men to its credit than any other thoroughfare in town. Scattered between the late forty and early fity streets, among the aristocratio hotels and apartment dwellings are various and sundry eating places, which are the cause of the presence of many of these New York Beau Brummels along this wide and fashionable avenue. In our usual search for the smartly turned out man we betook our selves to Park avenue. As we have mentioned before, summer is not a season when the well dressed man is at hand upon every corner, but here are a few examples of what was in town in the way of fashion:

THE COUNTRY

Bolivia, one of the largest of the South American republics, is more than ten times the size of the State of New York and larger than England, France and Germany combined. In mineral resources, it is the third richest country on the Western Hemisphere, being surpassed only by the in mineral wealth. The tin, silver and bismuth mines of the Republic are among the richest in the world. Bolivia produces about one-quarter of the total tin output of the world. American interests are largely represented in the tin mines. They are also represented in the oil fields, which are among the largest in the world. Rubber, coffee, cacao, tobacco, sugar cane and other products of the Tropical as well as many of the Temperate Zone are successfully cultivated. Coca, from which cocaine is derived, is raised in large quantities, and the forests contain numerous species of valuable

In spite of its present development, the country has as yet scarcely scratched the surface of its wonderful natural resources.

The bonds are the direct obligations of the Republic of Bolivia and, in addition to the full The bonds are the direct obligations of the Republic of Bolivia and, in addition to the full faith and credit of the Republic, are specifically secured by a first lien and charge on important revenue producing duties and taxes and on the Republic's majority stock interest in the Banco de la Nacion Bolivana (National Bank of Bolivia) and the dividends paid thereon. The collections from these pledged revenues and taxes in 1923 were reported by the Permanent Fiscal Commission as amounting to approximately $5,789,000, compared with the interest and sinking fund charges that year of $2,400,000 and the present charges of $2,900,000. The Commission estimates that these collections for the year 1924 will amount to about $6,886,000. The bonds are also secured by a first mortgage on two railroads, which, when completed, will give Bolivia a direct railroad connection with Argentine and contribute to the opening up of one of the most fertile agricultural sections of the country.

The sinking fund is expected to redeem the entire issue of bonds before maturity, provided bonds can be purchased at or below 105 and accrued interest during the period within which the issue is noncallable.

Corner Madison Avenue and 34th Street NEW YORK CITY

First Mortgage Twenty-Year 61/2% Sinking Fund Gold Loen

AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY, New York City, Trustee.

LOCATION: The Belmont Building, designed as an office and display room building of the highest character, will occupy the southeast corner of Madison Avenue and 34th Street, New York City, one of the most desirable locations in the Madison Avenue business district. This corner is one block from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and in the same block as the Vanderbilt Hotel, being opposite B. Altman & Company, one of the largest department stores in the City. The property is also within a short distance of the Pennsylvania Terminal and the Grand Central Station.

Chency Brothers, the oldest and one of the foremost silk manufacturers in the United States, have contracted for a twenty-year lesse, covering the first three floors and basement in this building, confirming further the desirability of this location.

BUILDING: The building will consist of seventeen stories and two basements, of red granite, steel and brick fireproof construction. The design is an adaptation of Spanish Renaissance, the lower three floors faced with polished red granite, the upper floors consisting of red brick to harmonize with the red granite base. The structure will be crowned with a colonnade of terracotta. The ceilings will be of exceptional height and the main portion will provide clear, unobstructed space entirely without interior columns. 34th Street is 100 feet wide and affords unusually favorable north light, which is most desirable for display room purposes.

SECURITY: This loan will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mort-gage on the land and building owned in fee, extending 153.2 feet on 34th Street with a frontage of 49.5 feet on Madison Avenue and extending in the central portion to a 25-foot frontage on 33rd Street, and having a total ground area of 12,658 square feet. The title of the property is guaranteed by the New York Title & Mortgage Company. The Merchants and Manufacturers Exchange of New York, owning or controlling a number of important properties in New York City (among which are the Park-Lexington Building and the Geans Central Palace) guarantees the completion of These properties have been appraised by Fenimore C. Goode Co., Inc., William Kennelly, Inc., and W. Albert Pease, Jr., as having a value upon completion in excess of $3,600,000 or over 150% of the principal amount of this loan.

SINKING FUND: The provisions of the mort-nually in quarterly instalments to the Trustee, for the account of the sinking fund and interest, of the following amounts: From May 1, 1925, to and including August 1, 1929, $195,000; thereafter and until maturity, $200,000. The operation of this sinking fund, through purchase in the open market or redemption, will reduce the loan to less than $960,000 prior to maturity, an amount substantially less than the present value of the land alone.

EARNINGS: The building will have a total net rentable area of approximately 192,437 square feet, all of which will be particularly well adapted for office and display room purposes. This building is designed to partially accommodate the ever-increasing demand for space in this locality. The unusually favorable light conditions and the central corner location contribute to the rentability of the space.

Based on leases already signed the annual net earnings available for interest after deducting operating expenses, maintenance, insurance and taxes, as determined by renting experts, are conservatively estimated to be approximately two and three-quarter times the maximum interest charges.

The Cheney Brothers' lease extends beyond the maturity of this loan and is for an aggregate rental of $2,500,000, or more than the principal amount of this issue.

LEGAL FOR TRUST FUNDS: Based on the praisals, the land and building, when completed, will have a valuation of over 150% of this loan, and these securities, in the opinion of counsel, will be legal for the investment of Trust Funds under the laws of the State of New York.

Shock threshing of wheat in Kansas is about 75 per cent completed, according to the Kansas state report.

George M. Le Count wired Stein, Alstrin & Co. from Cavour, S. D.: "Corn all the way today was only 50 per cent in silk. Much not tasseled yet, Do not think this crop can mature unless frost is deayed way late. Small grains splendid. Movement of small grain will be heavy in another week."

Corn needs 40 days to mature, according to a report from Crop Observer Kluyon in a message' to Jackson Bros. & Co. from Huron. S. D. Many fields just tasseling. Barley in James river valley yielding from 30 to 50 bu per acre. MARKETS AT A GLANCE
